BLAMEY'S CALL TO ALL SERVICEMEN

STILL HAVE DUTY TO AUSTRALIA

Spirit Of AIF In National Life

USTRALIA'S FUTURE GREATNESS WOULD ABE DETERMINED BY THE EXTENT TO WHICH EX-SERVICEMEN OF THE TWO WORLD WARS PARTICIPATED IN THE DETERMINATION OF THE NATION'S AFFAIRS.

This statement was made on Anzac eve by General Sir Thomas Blamey, former Commander-in-Chief AMF, who will lead the Anzac march to the Shrine of Remembrance today.

There was, he said, a solemn obligation on every former serviceman to take some part in the moulding of national policy. It was their duty to infuse the nation's life with the spirit that had made the AIF of 1914-18 and had been again the spirit of the Army in 1939-46.

Anzac Day would be an empty commemoration if the million and more men and women who had served the nation in the time of its greatest danger did not demonstrate their readiness to help the other fellow through the years of peace.

Blamey said, "that former service men and women should band themselves together into an exclusive political organisation. That would tend to cut them off from the rest of the community. It would be a denial of our wartime ideal of selfless service to the nation.

Blessings of Peace And Prosperity

--King And Queen

His Royal Highness the Governor-General (the Duke of Gloucester) has received the following Anzac Day message from His Majesty the King:

"The Queen and I join today with all those who in Australia are commemorating Anzac Day. The past year has witnessed the final victory of our arms over our common enemies, and my thoughts go out to all those in the Australian and New Zealand Forces who helped so magnificently in this triumphant result, and to all those who fell in the struggle. pray the same success which crowned the achievements of those whom we remember today may attend the efforts of all the men and women who in diverse ways are now seeking to restore to a sore troubled world blessings of peace and prosperity. I know in the tasks which have still to be fulfilled, no less than in the trials and hazards of war, my people of Australia and New Zealand will play a full and worthy part. GEORGE R.I.
